WOMEN'S RIBBED UNION SUITS!

The union suit is the ideal undergarment for women particular about the fit of their gowns. The bands and unnecessary bulk of the two piece suits make a marked difference in comfort as well as in the "set" of a dress. Our stock presents throughout Union Suits made with utmost care as to shape and fit. Fit is really the most important feature of long service, for where there is a strain on a garment at any point, that is where it first fails. This is avoided with carefully selected underwear in our stock. Union Suits at all prices but one of special merit at a special price is the

D. HUNT & SON.

Oh, that was the dish that our forefathers relished in at noonday from field of their work. A big bowl of greens, with its bonnet embellished with generous slices of country cured pork. Their lip they would smack in extreme satisfaction. The top button that served on their jeans. To give them more room when they got the right about. Upon the loved livery of bacon and greens. The women their faded sunbonnets would tie up. And look for the treasure in lane and in wood. The tender young maid, the sweet dandelion. And other green things that lay near to the good. From out the great pot they the fruit of their labor. Would stack for the feast in the waiting utensils. The fragrance borne forth telling all of their ingenuity. The tale of the dinner of bacon and greens. New Yorkers may dine on hot birds and cold bottles. The Levittes feast on the succulent clam. Chicagoans send down their ravens throats. Most liberal realizations of home doctored ham. St. Louis may feed on oysters and spoolers. The Bostoner revel in brown bread and beans. But none will come long to the good. The old-fashioned filling of bacon and greens. —D. Hunt & Son.

AODDHER OLD HOUSE.

Flames Sweep Away a Very Old Building Near Washington.

A tenement on the farm of Mr. James N. Kirk near Washington burned about 12 o'clock last night.

The house was occupied by Mose Lane, a worthy cooper, and on him the loss falls heavily.

Besides destroying all his furniture, his provisions of meat, fruits and the like which he stored away for use during winter were burned.

The building was a very old one, erected over one hundred years ago.

The loss, the larger part of which was to the occupant, is estimated at about $500, with no insurance.

CHURCH RECEPTION.

Very Handsome Affair at the First Baptist Last Evening.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyet, with their children, have established themselves in our midst, the First Baptist Church of this city having called Brother Boyet as its Pastor.

To properly and more felicitously induct him into the hearts of his people the members arranged and gave, in honor of him and his family, a most beautiful reception last night.

The auditorium, Sunday-school room and other apartments connected were thrown together and profusely decorated with autumn leaves, roses and hot house plants; myriad lights shown resplendent over fair women and Christian men, and the zeal and cordiality of the committee never flagged, and the sight of such pretty girls, so daintily gowned, would have been enough joy, aside from delicious ices, cake and coffee served by sweet little Misses as nimble of wing and as deftly endowed as the humming-birds.

The Mayaville Orchestra was in a grove of palms arranged about the platform and at intervals made the air heavy with sweet sound and gave to all that uplift which only music by this organization can.

In the Sunday-school room the guests were served, and at 10 o'clock this successfully planned and beautifully executed reception closed.

The receiving line was made up of Mrs. A. B. Glanbeck, Mrs. John W. Alexander, Rev. and Mrs. Boyet, Mrs. Joseph Cochran, Mrs. J. M. Judge, Mrs. Mary C. Wilson and Miss Annie Dimmitt.

THE BEE HIVE WE ASSERT—OUR GOODS CONFIRM!

"The proof of the pudding may lie in the eating," but the proof of good goods will not lie in the talking. Though others may ask you 65c for goods that we sell with a legitimate profit for 49c, and though they may exhaust the vocabulary of a Webster or a Worcester with praiseworthy adjectives, will this be a criterion that their goods will wear better than ours? No, no! Qualities will always prove where words fail. We offer for your approval and selection a full line of the newest weaves in Autumn BLACK DRESS GOODS, amongst which will be found—
